

The property has a rich history.

Indigenous people lived on the site prior to European settlement. A Mohican chief first sold the land to a Dutch settler in 1649.

In 1690 Dirk Teunisse Van Vechten built the farmhouse that still stands immediately south of the Preserve property.

This stretch of the Catskill Creek appears in the 19th century paintings of Thomas Cole and Fredric Church.

The historic Catskill Mountain Railway ran through the site carrying passengers between the Hudson River and mountaintop hostelrys like the Catskill Mountain House.

Mawignack Preserve

Snake Road
Catskill, NY 12414
Owned by Scenic Hudson
Managed by Greene Land Trust

Scenic Hudson purchased this 144 acre property in 2016. The preserve property encompasses more than 2 miles of shoreline on Catskill Creek. It contains an open floodplain meadow, upland forest, and flood plain forest.

Greene Land Trust manages the property for Scenic Hudson.

The preserve was opened to the public in May 2018. A one mile trail loops through the preserve and provides glimpses of the Catskill Mountains and the Catskill Creek.

Please stay on the trails to avoid poison ivy and limit exposure to ticks.
